

Reflection by P. Parks....

REFLECTION: The meditation for March 18 for the Sanctuary for Lent 2020 really spoke to me this week. I remember both of my kids, nursing them or rocking them to sleep, would reach up, touch my cheek. Time stands still. I, too, miss the goodness of babies in my arms. The love of children helps us remember the love of God. We are all hurting in this new COVID norm. Let us not forget when we are forced to stop and isolate ourselves, God has us all in his arms together. In Luke 18: 15-17 Jesus says, "Let the children come unto me". Let us remember to turn to God with child-like faith and trust, not just during Lent, not just during crisis, but always.
